No Moonshine—Just Plain, Unvarnished, Cashable Facts About Poultry Profits

If there ever was a straight-from-the-shoulder, look-me-in-the-eye and hold-up-your-right-hand statement of facts, you'll find it in JOEL M. FOSTER'S book, "THE MILLION EGG FARM."

Mr. Foster owns the famous Rancocas Poultry Farm, and in his book he tells his methods for producing upward of eleven hundred thousand eggs a year and piling a clean annual profit of close to $20,000.00

We know that the statements in this book are cold facts—because we proved them by an exhaustive investigation before publishing THE MILLION EGG FARM for distributing to Farm Journal subscribers. We have sold many thousand copies of this book, and we know from the actual experiences of those who have read and followed it, that these facts can be profitably applied by you—whether you have a dozen hens on a back lot, or number your fowls by the thousand.

Up in Scranton, Pa., a clerk, Robert Liddle by name, seeking to better his fortunes, read this book, followed its directions, and at last reports was cleaning up $17.00 a day profit on eggs.

In the light of such experiences, we know that farmers need this book. That's why we publish it and are trying to put it into the hands of every poultry owner. To serve the Farmer is the whole purpose of FARM JOURNAL. To serve him with sound advice regarding every branch of farm work.

To enable him to profit by the labor-saving and money-making discoveries of other farmers. To serve the farmer's wife with helpful suggestions. To serve the farmer and his entire family with clean, wholesome entertainment.

FARM JOURNAL has its own way of presenting facts in crisp, interesting, readable form. It is the National Farmer talking in a human, understandable, sympathetic way to the individual farmer. It is educational without being tiresome. It is bright, cheerful and clean to the core. Fakes, quacks and all other swindling advertisers are forever barred from its columns.

Upward of four million readers welcome its monthly visits. Two or three copies will make you a confirmed reader of Farm Journal. You need this paper and you need the MILLION EGG FARM book. None of us ever know so much about our work that we can't learn any more.

To take advantage of this combination offer of the paper for four years and the book at once, postpaid, for a dollar, will be a wise and thrifty thing to do. Do yourself and family the favor of sending in the dollar to-day. Use the coupon.

PORTSMOUTH, VIRGINIA.

INDUSTRIALLY---COMMERCIALY--- HISTORICAL

Population 33,190.

By the SECRETARY OF THE PORTSMOUTH BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

THIS city, which has the distinction of leading all Virginia cities in growth, in population, in the past ten years, was first founded by an act of the General Assembly, February 25th, 1752, about 47 years after Norfolk was created a borough. The preamble of the act reading as follows:

I. Whereas, it hath been represented to this Assembly that William Crawford, of the County of Norfolk, gentlemen, hath lately laid out a parcel of land on the south side of Elizabeth River, opposite to the town of Norfolk, into 122 lots, commodious streets, places for a court house, market and public buildings, for a town, by the name of Portsmouth, and made sale of most of the said lots to divers persons who are desirous to settle and build thereon speedily: and also that the said town lies very convenient for trade and navigation:

II. Be it enacted, &c.

Portsmouth is located in what is popularly known as Tidewater Virginia, in the Atlantic Coastal plain, which is characterized by a broad, flat expanse of country, with an average elevation of only about 20 feet above sea level, along the river and inlets, about 10 feet. The city has come into prominence within the last few years as an industrial community, owing to her unexcelled geographical location; being situated on the western or mainland side of a large commodious land locked harbor from the surrounding wharves of which nearly 15,000,000 tons of freight were shipped, and 650,000,000 feet of lumber handled during 1910. The annual coal shipments alone represent a market value exceeding $20,000,000. The Hampton Roads basin, the deep sea outlet of this harbor, is considered superior even to New York's by many, and with the opening of the Panama canal a great quickening is predicted by one of the country's great industrial financiers, whose investments in this section totals in the millions.

A depth of water of from 30 to 36 feet to the ocean is one of the factors responsible for the very rapid industrial advancement of this city and section. Eight large rail systems and twenty-six steamer lines now have this section as a base, reaching out in every direction to the principal markets of the country, both on land and sea. A linking of all these transportation lines, whose aggregate capitalization represents hundreds of millions of dollars, was found necessary, and Portsmouth was thereby made famous by a belt line owned and controlled by the combined transportation interests, which connects all the rail and water carriers reaching this territory. The belt line naturally developed rapidly into an industrial railroad and along its line a manufacturing zone has sprung up. This connecting link owns and operates nine miles of main line, ten miles of sidings, besides operating five and a half miles of private sidings. Two hundred and twenty-five thousand cars are handled annually by this belt line, which requires eight shifting engines and train crews to handle the traffic. Along its lines 58 industries employing 4,500 wage earners have come into existence within a comparatively few years. These industries are engaged in handling and manufacturing articles for export and domestic use, among which may be mentioned tables, lumber products, structural iron, pickles and preserves, fuel oil, Portland cement, cast iron pipe, fertilizer products, creosoted conduits, telegraph and telephone cross arms, wood paving blocks, barrels and crates, furniture, berry baskets, butter dishes, hosiery, building material, cotton oil products, cotton seed products, staves, steel doors and shutters, underwear, ore smelting, knit goods, box shooks, fertilizer, sash, doors and blinds, mattresses, novelty articles, &c.

The navy yard, naval magazine, naval hospital, U. S. marine barracks cover an area of 450 acres, and give employment to upward of 3,000 civilian wage earners, while the commissioned and enlisted force represent 3,000 more, making the government disbursements for labor and salaries total approximately $4,000,000 annually, with as much more expended for food, raiment and material. Special appropriations by Congress from time to time for permanent improvements, such as dry docks, buildings, &c., serves to keep much money in circulation at all times.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway car shops, employing 800 wage earners and expending $600,000 to $800,000 annually is another factor in the upbuilding of the city. The following is a summary of the industries:

				No. of Establish- ments	Wage Earners Employed.
City (U. S. census figures),	-	-	-	31	842
Manufacturing zone,	-	-	-	58	4,500
Navy yard, - - - - -	-	-	-	1	3,000
Naval magazine,	-	-	-	1	300
S. A. L. Ry. shops,	-	-	-	1	800
				— 92	— 9,442

Besides the industrial feature, Portsmouth is the centre of the famous truck-farming region of Tidewater Virginia. Over 5,000,000 packages of early vegetables were shipped to the Northern markets from this territory during 1911, the estimated value of which approximates $12,000,000. The shipments consisted in part of 1,000,000 barrels potatoes, 700,000 barrels spinach, 400,000 barrels kale, 150,000 barrels radishes, 200,000 barrels of peas, 100,000 baskets lettuce, 120,000 crates strawberries, &c. This section has the reputation of growing more spinach than the rest of the United States combined. The fish and oysters produced in the waters contiguous to the city are far famed and wealth producing. Thousands are employed in the business of catching and shipping, which represents returns running up into the hundred thousands of dollars.

The city proper, which is built within a radius of three square miles, or 1,920 acres, has a property valuation $25,000,000 with a bonded indebtedness of $1,400,000 and municipal assets to offset this indebtedness of over $2,100,000, represented by public buildings, paved streets, engine houses and fire apparatus, half ownership in the city and county ferries, &c. The city's income derived from a reasonable tax rate is about $500,000 per year, which is expended as far as possible in street paving and other municipal improvements. A $3,000,000 water plant furnishes an abundance of the best water the year around. Thirty miles of electric street railways, handling upwards of 4,200,000 passengers yearly and the ferries transporting approximately 12,000,000 people and 40,000 vehicles during the twelve months, combine to give some idea of Portsmouth's activities. One national and three state banks, with capital, surplus and deposits of nearly $5,000,000, care for the financial needs of the community.

Historically, Portsmouth is not without interest. Commodore James Barron, who is remembered on account of his duel with Commodore Stephen Decatur, is buried in the church yard of old Trinity Church, as are a number of others well known in our national history. The old Dale homestead, now known as the Guthrie home, was built by Richard Dale, one of John Paul Jones' first lieutenants in the war of the Revolution, subsequently commandant of the navy yard in this city. The stone dry dock has the distinction of being one of the first built by the government, and the first to receive a battleship. The line of battleship "Delaware" was docked here in 1833. The dock to-day is in as good condition as when first built. The U. S. Naval Hospital is on the site of old Fort Nelson of Revolutionary fame. During the Spanish-American war the wounded Spaniards of Cervera's fleet, together with Admiral Cervera were cared for in this hospital, which is one of the best and finest equipped in the country.

An interesting fact in connection with the Navy Yard is that five different flags, representing as many different powers, have floated over its destiny—the British, Continental, United States, Virginia and Confederate flags. The Virginia flag that was hoisted over the Navy Yard in 1861 is now preserved in a glass case in the city hall. John L. Porter, naval constructor in the Confederate States Navy, who superintended the rebuilding of the "Merrimac" into the iron clad "Virginia," was a native of this city, where his remains now rest.
